

Clay has been a presenter at the DPS Physical Education and Dance Summer Institute for the past three years. His sessions are innovative with an emphasis on appropriate practices, curriculum integration, assessment, and advocacy in physical education. Clay is an outstanding presenter who motivates participants to improve their teaching practices by thinking outside the box. His sessions align to physical education standards and include health and skill related fitness components. Clay's handouts are comprehensive which allow teachers to apply what they learn to their everyday instruction.
